

Need Resilience?

Come learn about these soil health principles:

- Disturb the soil as little as possible
- Crop rotations and cover crop diversity
- Keep a living root in the soil
- Keep the soil covered
- Incorporate livestock where practical

Learn more benefits at the . . .

$oil Health Workshop

Improve your profit margin by applying soil health principles

Attend a workshop at one of these locations. Workshops run from 9 am to 3 pm.

Workshop is free! Lunch will be provided by your local Conservation Districts

- January 31 - Richfield, UT - Sevier County Admin. Building, 250 N. Main St. Richfield, UT
Contact: Michael Larsen, NRCS Area Resource Conservationist 435-896-5489 ext. 124
- February 1 - Spanish Fork, UT - Ponderosa Building, Spanish Fork Fairgrounds, 40 S Main St., Spanish Fork, UT
Contact: Daniel Gunnell, UDAF Zone Coordinator 801-377-5580 ext. 120
- February 2 - Tremonton, UT - Box Elder County Fair Grounds, N 1000 W, Tremonton, UT
Contact: Bracken Henderson, UDAF Zone Coordinator 435-753-5616 ext. 111

Got Soil Herd Health?

Special Guest Speakers:

- Brad McIntyre, Manager, McIntyre Farms, Marsing, ID
- Marlon Winger, Regional Soil Health Specialist, NRCS
- Dr. Earl Creech, Utah State University Extension Agronomist
- Local Producer Perspectives & Panel Q&A Session

Workshop sponsors:

Photos courtesy of USDA NRCS. USDA is an equal opportunity employer and provider.